London Business Week

The London Arab Entrepreneurs Board is proud to launch the London Business Week. This is the first program of its kind in the Middle East for Arab entrepreneurs, project owners, innovators, and those pursuing success and golden opportunities. The Program is an unrivalled opportunity for those seeking a broader vision of the entrepreneurial scene in the UK. It aims to assist them in choosing their right career paths and provide the opportunity for distinguished members to closely learn about the strategies of major British corporations and startups and how they face and overcome challenges. They will go through a comprehensive and unique experience that will enrich their practical experience in London, the international capital of business.

The Program is around one week, and includes individual and expanded meetings with the most notable British and international CEOs of major British corporations and Banks. In addition, it organises visits to the most popular tourist attractions in London and its countryside, including a special visit to the British Parliament, the House of Lords, and Buckingham Palace. The program combines both practical experiences presented by British corporations and tours of the finest and internationally popular attractions of London, with an opportunity to enjoy the charming natural scenery of the English countryside.

The Program will conclude with honorary commemorative awards presented to our distinguished members. The awards contain British Royal golden coins, which are the most tradable of their kind worldwide, made by the unique British Royal Mint Limited. These coins have a special standing and prestige in the UK and will be awarded as souvenirs to all the program's attendees by the Arab Entrepreneurs Board.
